

Ayman Al Qudsi

Digital Transformation Advisor

Influential IT Management Executive with 23+ years of achievement in leveraging technology to drive organizational growth, performance, profitability and leading IT and Digital Transformation initiatives in support of business strategies and objectives. Result oriented, client focused, process driven, cost-conscious technology leader with proven success in the creation and management of effective teams.

Significant experience managing change and realizing efficiency through Cloud based solutions and IT Infrastructure System virtualization, integration, consolidation, optimization and automation in addition to operational insourcing/outsourcing support management services. Extensive exposure and comfort in interacting with all management levels within an organization and with managing distributed and virtual teams. Proponent of standard-based computing and process-driven IT, with a comprehensive background in managing and driving digital transformation initiatives, multiple complex projects, architecting application landscape, establishing priorities, and leveraging technology to meet both tactical and strategic business Digital initiatives and needs.

Demonstrate the ability in decision-making, team building, planning, and communications skills. Provide practical experience in turning programs and projects around to add positive business benefit and being innovative. Proven experience in negotiating and managing large-scale vendor agreements. Proficient and hands-on in all major technologies, IT Infrastructure management, Data Center design, build, and run, IT Service Continuity and IT Security Operations.